

Worksheet 2

I feel like the indian reservations are big enough as long as there is enough space for everyone. The different tribes all have space and are united through their space. Plus they are free to celebrate with each other.